Saxophonist and DJ

Corporate Events

Information Pack

Welcome

Corporate entertainment doesn't have to be boring. Sax and DJ sets bring the perfect mix of style, spontaneity and substance, blending live energy with curated sound to create something truly memorable. Whether you're aiming for relaxed sophistication or high-energy celebration, I build each performance to align with your vision, energise your guests, and complement your brand identity.

I'm Vicki Watson, a professional saxophonist and DJ with over a decade of experience performing at corporate events, awards nights, brand launches, product activations, conferences and private celebrations across the UK and beyond.

Whether it's a black-tie awards ceremony, a product launch showstopper or an afterparty that keeps your guests dancing into the night, I bring a flexible, polished setup and years of industry insight to every event.

This guide will walk you through some of the most popular performance formats, add-on options, and how we can create an experience that suits your brand, audience, and setting, whether you're planning a one-off launch party or a week-long international retreat.

For high-end events or luxury brand activations, you can also explore my bespoke performance experience, Sax Couture, featuring a one-of-a-kind Swarovski-encrusted saxophone and couture styling at www.saxcouture.com.

If you already have a date and location in mind, I'd be happy to provide a personalised quote. Let me know what you're planning and we'll build something brilliant together.

Looking for something different?

Got a wild idea in mind? I've brought sax and DJ vibes to circus tents, ski parties, tropical beaches, museums, yachts, shop windows, pool parties, sporting events, festival stages and more. Whether it's a drive-by surprise set, a rooftop flashmob or something completely off-the-wall, I'm always up for a creative challenge. If it sounds fun, I'm in.

Testimonials

"We recently hired Vicki Watson to perform at our Early Career Awards evening at Atlassian Williams Racing, and she absolutely did not disappoint. The theme for the night was "A Night in Monaco", and Vicki brought that vision to life with an unforgettable set of DJ-ing and live saxophone. She created an electric, glamorous atmosphere from start to finish, by effortlessly blending feel-good energy with sophistication. Vicki not only sounded incredible on both decks and sax, but she looked the part too, performing with her dazzling Swarovski 'Lumière' saxophone, which added an extra level of sparkle and showmanship to the evening. It's clear she understands how to read a room and elevate a corporate event into something special. The feedback from our team and guests has been fantastic, and we'd highly recommend Vicki to any company looking to bring stylish, high-impact entertainment to their event."

– Lucy Goodman, Williams F1

"We booked Vicki for our après-ski themed party and she was absolutely amazing! From the moment she started playing, she brought incredible energy to the event and truly set the tone for the night. Not only did she sound fantastic, but she also looked the part – dressed perfectly for the theme, as if we really were partying in the mountains. We've had so many compliments from guests since the event, all raving about how brilliant she was. Vicki was a real highlight of the evening and we wouldn't hesitate to book her again!"

– The Devon Rum Company

"We had the pleasure of having Vicki, an incredibly talented saxophonist and DJ, perform at our recent function, and she truly made the event unforgettable. From the moment she started playing, her music had everyone in the room straight up to the dance floor. Her range was diverse, covering a range of genres that appealed to all our guests. This was achieved by not only being an excellent saxophonist but also DJ-ing during the same period.

Vicki's professionalism was also commendable. She arrived early to set up, was well-prepared, and interacted with our guests in a friendly and approachable manner. It was clear that she takes great pride in her work and strives to deliver the best experience possible. This was confirmed by several guests commenting on how much they enjoyed Vicki's set.

We highly recommend Vicki for any event. Her talent and dedication to her craft are truly exceptional, and we look forward to having her perform at our future functions."

– Sgt. Hayden Maguire, The Royal Tank Regiment
